Common person proxies may include a parent or guardian, a spouse, a family member, a friend, or a third-party agent (such as a vocational rehabilitation services counselor). Students may grant, modify, or revoke person proxy access at any time without a proxy's consent or notification.

More information about FERPA can be found at <https://www.marian.edu/current-students/registr/ferpa>. The designated individual will be able to view, print and download information to which you've granted them access. By adding a person proxy you also agree to provide Marian University with your proxy's demographic information (name, contact information) which may be used for any and all University communications including but not limited to email, phone, postal mail, and text. Students may grant, modify, or revoke person proxy access at any time without a proxy's consent or notification.
