Special Guest Presenter to Lead Canvas Workshops

We have the privilege of having Kona Jones, Canvas guru and the Director of Online Learning at Richland Community College in Decatur, IL, to lead the following workshops via WebEx. She teaches her own courses using Canvas and is able to showcase all of the Canvas features she uses to ensure her courses are being used to their maximum potential and that her students are getting the most out of their learning experience. She is able to pass on a wonderful mix of Canvas how-to, practical application, and effective techniques. You won't want to miss this!

- Guiding Learning in an Online Environment - Tuesday, June 2nd 10:30 am-12:00 pm
- Engaging Students in an Online Environment - Tuesday, June 9th 10:30 am-12:00 pm
- Assessing Students in an Online Environment - Tuesday, June 16th 10:30 am-12:00 pm

Teaching Online Can Be Tricky…The Master Class Certification Can Help: Offered Online This Summer

If you've already taken the first part of the CTL's Master Class – Teaching with Canvas series, you may want to consider taking the other two classes to complete the entire series. You will pick one of your courses to focus on, creating a portion of a design document for the curriculum using backward design. Then you'll create modules inside of Canvas to start to build out the course. Learn more with the links below. Taking all three classes and completing all requirements means you will be considered a certified Master Class Graduate. Class 1 of 3 has already been offered, but here are the other two class offerings.

- Class 2 of 3: Creating your Design Document Using Backward Design
- Class 3 of 3: Going Further with Canvas Modules and Module Items

Panopto Update

If you are working with your Panopto recordings and don't see past videos you've created, don't worry! All videos are still there. There was a Panopto update and past Panopto videos are temporarily in a second listing of your course (see image below). All new videos will appears as they did before. To view past videos, just click on the dropdown with your course name and select the second listing of your course from the menu. A Canvas announcement was made for all students. Merging of files is being worked on. If you have any questions, please email ctl@marian.edu.

Faculty & Staff Writing Group: Write a Journal Article in 12 Weeks

Move your scholarship forward by joining the Writing Center's online summer faculty and staff writing group. In this writing group, Wendy Belcher's Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks (2nd Edition) book will be used to prepare a scholarly article for submission by the start of the fall 20 semester.

The summer writing group will meet virtually every week, 10-11 am on Mondays beginning June 1st, to develop writing goals, workshop and shape drafts, and discuss revision strategies. This workshop is suitable for those who have a beginning draft, a revision draft or who have yet to begin a draft. The writing group is most helpful for those who can dedicate time to write in each of the twelve weeks. Register here.

Summer Webinars for Research Grant Opportunities

Please save the date for the three upcoming summer webinars. Links to register for the webinars can be found below but reminders will also be sent at least two weeks in advance of each webinar. All webinars will be recorded and distributed to registrants the day after the webinar is held.

- A Flipped Classroom on the NSF Noyce Grant: How to Design and Implement a Winning Program - Wednesday, June 17th 2:00 pm
- Crafting a Compelling NEH Humanities Connections Proposal - Tuesday, July 28th 2:00 pm
- Getting Started With HRSA - Tuesday, August 12th 1:00 pm

Interested in SoTL? Please Tell Us More…

Please take this short, 10-question survey so we can assess your interest in SoTL either by working in or learning more about evidence based teaching practices by participating in a workshop or journal club. This survey will also gather some reflections about the transition to online instruction that could be used to inspire a case study for possible dissemination. Take survey here.

Testing Online? Check Out These Respondus Webinars

If you're interested in tools to make your online tests more secure, check out the webinar on Respondus LockDown Browser and/or Respondus Monitor, which help mitigate cheating. There is also a webinar on Respondus 4.0, which allows you to create and manage exams that can be printed to paper or published directly to Canvas. Learn more and register here.
